

MANCHESTER WINE FESTIVAL

Twenty-five tables of wine, food and small producers, poured and served for neighbors

TICKETS $20 early bird, through Oct. 4 or the first hundred

FORECAST November in Vermont. We're pouring inside.

THE BALLOT A1	TICKETS A2	EVENTS A3	THE TASTING A4	WHO IS POURING A5
----------------------	-------------------	------------------	-----------------------	--------------------------

Twenty-five tables, one afternoon – and the guests decide where the money goes Nature's Market's second Manchester Wine Festival pours indoors at the Community Library on Saturday, November 7. Every dollar of profit from the wine follows a ballot cast by the people drinking it.

THE PARTICULARS

DATE
Saturday, November 7, 2026

HOURS
2 to 6 in the afternoon

PLACE
Manchester Community Library
138 Cemetery Ave., Manchester Center

CONDITIONS
Indoors. 21+, photo ID checked at the door.

RATES

$20

Early bird – through Oct. 4, or the first 100 tickets

$30

Regular, online

$35

At the door

WHAT IS INSIDE

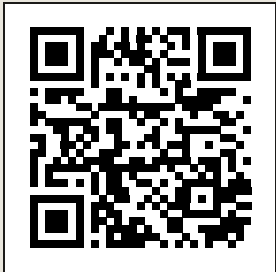

Twenty-five tables of wine, food and Vermont small producers, poured straight through the afternoon.

A paper bag blind tasting. Guess the bottle. Seats are booked and paid for separately, $15.

The secret speakeasy pour, included with every ticket. No booking – you have to find it.

Profit from the wine goes to a local Vermont charity, and the guests choose which one. Every ticket is a ballot; the count closes when the festival does, and the figure is published afterwards.

Run entirely by volunteers. "Profit" means what is left from wine sales after the wine and the cost of serving it are paid for.

BUY TICKETS
manchesterwinefestival.com/buy